THE GEOGRAPHICAL ENVIRONMENT OF HUMAN SOCIETY. Dn 68. 11 P
Order from ACH 22.11 [in Soviet Geography: Review and Translation, v. 4, no. 11, (p. 3-19)]

Trans. of Geography (Kosmos) 1968, no. 11, p. 67-71. (Abstract available)

DESCRIPTIONS: *Geography, *Ecology, Philosophy, Sociology.

The author argues for acceptance of the geographical environment as the basic object of study in geography. This environment is defined as nature that has undergone change as a result of man's activities. The author contends that most Soviet geographers still base their views on the now outmoded Stalinist definition of the geographical environment as the "environment surrounding man" or "external nature." DESCRIPTORS: *Geography, Philosophy.

The author defends V. A. Anuchin's efforts to develop the theory of unity of geography based on Marxist-Leninist philosophy. Konovalevko finds that Americans are closely following the theoretical discussion in Soviet geography because they, too, are supposedly searching for a methodological foundation of a unified geography.
He holds that Soviet geography, by developing such a theory on a Marxist basis, can win followers within the
